The Wisconsin Waterfowl Association is dedicated to the conservation of Wisconsin's waterfowl and wetland resources.

Habitat Restoration

Our field restoration team is a leader in wetland and upland restoration through our historic-ecosystem based technique, which has received international attention and acceptance. Our top priority remains the restoration and enhancement of Wisconsin's waterfowl related habitat, and to that end, we have restored thousands of wetland & upland project acres, throughout the state. We've also developed a long-term project in Abrams, WI to provide additional access for disabled hunters and other users.

Outdoors Education

WWA volunteers are active in many outdoor education outreach efforts. Our recent focus has been on recruitment & education of new waterfowl hunters, using a variety of means: organized youth hunts, the more structured WDNR Learn to Hunt format, as well as the WDNR Wisconsin Non-Toxic Wingshooting program, which helps waterfowl hunters become more proficient in their shooting skills. We actively seek to partner with others, to help educate outdoors people on controlling the spread of aquatic invasive species. Our volunteer chapters do other educational works in their respective areas of the state, including duck & goose-banding, invasive species collections, waterfowl education days, duck & goose calling instruction, and waterfowl identification instruction. We also have local volunteers committed to the new Adopt-A-Wildlife Area program, coordinated with the WDNR.

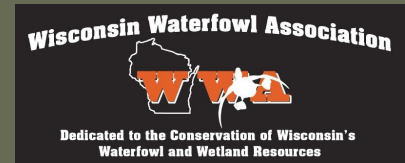

Legislation/Regulation

Our organizations is a leader in working with lawmakers & regulators to find solutions to the complex problems associated with waterfowl and wetlands issues. We work with the U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service, flyway councils and state agencies to develop waterfowl regulations which will provide the maximum amount of opportunity for waterfowl enthusiasts and at the same time meet the population goals of the North American Waterfowl Management Plan. WWA serves on the Migratory Bird committees of both the WDNR & the WI Wildlife Federation, as well as the WDNR's Wild Rice Advisory Team, as well as the recent Beaver Management Plan update team, and Waterfowl Hunting Zones ad-hoc committee, to name just a few key examples.
